

Privacy Statement

Sampo plc ("Sampo") has committed to protect the privacy of the users of this website in accordance with the applicable legislation. This privacy statement describes

i. what information we collect about the users of the website;

ii. the purpose of the processing of information;
iii. our cookie policy;
iv. how information is disclosed to third parties; and
v. the terms of use of this website and the rights of the user.

Collecting and processing of the information

What information we collect and how?

We collect information about the users of our website by using cookies (defined in more detail below) in connection with the browsing. The information collected does not constitute personal data. This website does not gather any web analytics data.

Purpose of the information processing

The information is processed for the purposes of user-specific personalization of the website by using cookies.

In other words, with cookies information is collected only for personalization purposes, and the user cannot be identified with such information. Cookies can be disabled anytime in accordance with the instructions later in this statement for changing browser settings.

Sampo's business area is to engage in investment activities and to carry out centrally-managed Group administration tasks for the companies that are part of the Group. Thus, the information of the users is not collected for customer relationships or marketing, nor shall them be transferred to the subsidiaries.

Cookie policy

Cookies and their use on the website

Websites use cookies to improve the site functionality and user experience by enabling efficient browsing and saving of the user's settings. The cookie remembers the user and can be saved for the duration of one visit on the website or longer.

A cookie is a small text file sent by the website server to the device of the user in order to identify and re-identify it. Only the server that saved the cookie may process or read the contents of the cookie. The information collected by using cookies includes for example the following:

- notifications shown on the website (cookie notification, expired browser notification); and
- personalization choices (functionality on or off).

The user cannot be identified with the information, nor do the cookies enable review of the information stored in the user's device. Sampo does not disclose the information collected by using cookies to any third parties.

Managing cookies

The user may disable all cookies or limit them by changing the browser settings. It is also possible to delete all already saved cookies but this may lead to inactivity of certain website functionalities. Alternatively browser settings may be set to notify the user about all cookies to be sent in advance.

Changing of cookie settings in most common browsers:

Internet Explorer
Mozilla Firefox
Google Chrome
Safari

Instructions relating to the use of browsers are normally available in the browser menu.

Third party cookies

This website contains contents and services provided by third parties, such as social media service providers. Sampo does not control the cookies used by these contents or services, if any. Each service provider may collect information about the visitors in accordance with their terms and conditions as in force from time to time, and serves as the registrar in relation to the collected information.

Regular disclosure of information

Sampo can disclose information collected to possible subcontractors and authorities in accordance with the legislation as in force from time to time. In addition to the aforementioned, information can be disclosed to any third parties in a form where individual user cannot be identified. In that case the information does not constitute personal data.

Website terms of use

By accessing the website, the user agrees with and commits to the terms of use of the website.

Terms of use

Rights of the user

Information is collected by using cookies only for statistical purposes and the user cannot be identified with such information.

However, the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 entitles the user to check their information in the registers, as well as to demand rectification of any incorrect information and in certain circumstances erasure of their information, right to restrict and object the processing, and otherwise use their rights guaranteed by the legislation in force from time to time.

The information request shall include the following information:

- The name, address, personal identification number, e-mail address and telephone number of the person making the request;
- The period of time during which the information is requested;
- A copy of the person's driving license, passport or official authority issued identity document.

The information request shall be sent in writing and personally signed by regular mail or e-mail to the address available below in section Contacts. The request can also be delivered in person.

A reasonable compensation may be charged for the provision of information if less than one year has passed since the previous instance of providing the user with access to the information.

Contacts

The registrar of the collected information is Sampo plc. Any queries related to this privacy statement, keeping of the register and processing of information as well as access to the information about the user shall be sent by e-mail to privacy\(at\)sampo.fisampo.fi) or by regular mail to:

Sampo plc / Corporate Legal Affairs
Fabianinkatu 27
00100 Helsinki
Finland

Updates to this statement

Sampo reserves the right to update this privacy statement.